Bouquets & Butterflies I love getting bouquets. Ever since I was a little girl I loved to put all kinds of flowers together for bouquets. In fact, I would have an "experimentation room" where I would put all kinds of different flowers together and give my mom all the options of which ones to put on a bouquet. I still have it set up and still use it. I just found a bouquet I love again and can't wait to make my bouquets. I'm also going to be doing a couple of watercolors next week. I'm really excited about these, because I haven't done them in a long time. Maybe my fingers remember. I'm going to be doing them on my iPhone and I'll use the blog to show you how it looks.

Yes, I've been busy all week long. I just finished this card and have had it finished for a few days. I need to go grocery shopping though, so I have to go soon. Maybe if I go right now I will have a chance to squeeze a little more time into my day. This is a new card I just made for a challenge over at Scrapper's Companion.

They were looking for a simple card. This one turned out to be quite simple. I used the sentiment from the stamp set "Flowers of the Season" on a piece of Whisper White card stock. I would have to say that I am really looking forward to this next week. I get to spend some time on the
