A: Move your DVD into the dvd folder and try to open the "Open With" on your DVD. You can do this in windows 7 Q: Help me install the 'new webtools' extension to comment on my own answers I have no idea how to do this. I thought I'd check with the community before I get myself into a lot of grief. EDIT: Ok, this is what I've done. Added the comment web tool link to the bottom of my answers. Problem 2 is solved, the filter doesn't work now and the webtool that I needed to write the annotation no longer seems to be available. Problem 1 is still an issue. Can anyone tell me how to do this so I can comment on my own answers? A: You can't comment on your own posts yet. The feature hasn't gone live yet. The most stringent guidelines by the government yet came into effect on Wednesday night, with people only allowed out for essential duties including buying food, medicine, travelling to work and caring for the elderly. Schools, colleges, cinemas and other entertainment venues were shut and playgrounds and outdoor exercise equipment removed, according to the ruling. Any shops found illegally selling items, including food, face a £20,000 fine. People have been urged to stay at home as much as possible and to only use essential services, such as supermarkets or pharmacies. The government has also urged people to eat at home, with alcohol being a notable exception. All pubs, bars and restaurants are now closed, and cinemas, theatres and live entertainment venues were previously told to close. Read more via Yahoo UK. Technology companies including Microsoft, Facebook and Google, as well as online security firm Cloudflare, have been told to shut down all work-related communications by 9pm. Apple and Samsung will maintain only essential communications. Consumer electronics companies have also been told to shut down all production and assembly work on April 3 in order to conserve supplies. When asked about the coronavirus, Prime Minister Boris Johnson said that he has "no fears on the subject", but added it is a "disagreeable, messy and disruptive nuisance". He added he is "proud of the way Britain is handling it". Mr Johnson reiterated previous government guidelines to minim

So this is really the same file with different hashes. How is it possible that my computer can open one torrent, but can't open the same torrent? A: It's probably a speed issue. You mentioned the Hash was "infohash" does the infohash match up to "infohash" ->> "0.24b4"? If it does then that would explain it. If it doesn't then the Hash being different is an issue. Perhaps it's simply the torrent wasn't fully downloaded when you downloaded the other torrent? "What torrents did the infohash match" will indicate you know how to do this. Does your torrent client have the option to set the "Peer Min Connections" threshold? There are several types of liquid crystal displays, including, a twisted nematic (TN) type, a vertically aligned (VA) type, an in-plane switching (IPS) type, an optically compensated bend (OCB) type, and an electrically controlled birefringence (ECB) type. Some or all of these types of liquid crystal displays can be used in liquid crystal display devices. In particular, an ECB-type liquid crystal display, which does not require a complicated alignment process and can be driven at low power, is becoming mainstream. As shown in FIG. 19A, an ECB-type liquid crystal display has a liquid crystal layer 1901, a first transparent electrode layer 1902, a second transparent electrode layer 1903, and a first alignment layer 1904. As shown in FIG. 19B, the first alignment layer 1904 is disposed on a substrate 1905. Furthermore, the first transparent electrode layer 1902 and the second transparent electrode layer 1903 are disposed on the first alignment layer 1904. In addition, a liquid crystal layer 1906 is disposed between the first transparent electrode layer 1902 and the second transparent electrode layer 1903. Moreover, a second alignment layer 1907 is disposed on the second transparent electrode layer 1903. As shown in FIG. 19C, the liquid crystal layer 1906 of the ECB-type liquid crystal display has a positive dielectric anisotropy. Liquid crystals with a positive dielectric anisotropy are referred to as positive type liquid crystals. Liquid crystals with a negative dielectric anisotropy are referred to as negative type liquid crystals. In the ECB-type liquid crystal display, when a voltage is applied to the first transparent electrode layer 1902 and the second transparent electrode layer
