Trickshot is a puzzle platformer that uses art and physics to allow you to experience levels through a new perspective in a 'trickster' way. You are a Trickshot and your world is decaying. And on the way down the rabbit hole, you discover the key to your freedom: Forget the arrow! Instead, use tools and tricks like pyrokinesis, teleportation, gravity anomaly, and gravity reversal to solve puzzles and help the world come to its senses. In Trickshot you are a part of a world that is slowly turning into a dark and chilly place. The clock is ticking down. Soon you'll be trapped forever, but not if you unlock the secrets of the arrows! In Trickshot you are a part of a world that is slowly turning into a dark and chilly place. The clock is ticking down. Soon you'll be trapped forever, but not if you unlock the secrets of the arrows! On top of all this, you have a colorful cast of characters that are part of your everyday life. Arrows are their way of life, and they are using their talent to help the world come back from the brink of disaster. Make sure to keep an eye on them! They can teach you a thing or two about life. Rangers are the blue arrows with a handle at the end. They are designed to help you explore the world and tackle the various puzzles you'll find along the way. Saber dummies are the orange arrows. Their purpose is to prove that using the arrows is not as easy as some might think. Pyrokinesis is a green arrow which has a firey-looking end. By shooting it at the ground, you can cause certain parts to ignite, which is a handy trick if you're dealing with a stuck part of the level. Teleportation is a red arrow which allows you to teleport to a specific location. The arrow includes the destination, so you can control where you end up. Gravity anomaly is a purple arrow. By shooting it at the ground, you can flip certain parts of the world upside down. Gravity reversal is a yellow arrow. By shooting it, you can bring gravity to a standstill and flip the world upside down. From what we can tell, these arrows can be used in any order. We recommend using sabers first to find a safe location, and then using the teleporting arrow so you can quickly get back to that spot. c9d1549cdd

Here is how it is saved: I have tried everything I could find. Even that: mysql_set_charset("utf8"); $query = "SELECT * FROM josy WHERE Login = '$logindata'"; Doesn't work either! UPDATE: It is not a problem with UTF-8, I can see it in phpMyAdmin too. I tried the same with UTF-16 and UTF-32, then the German (öäü) wasn't found either. A: You have to convert the string to utf8 in the database (as you can do in MySQL with the default collation): mysql_set_charset("utf8"); mysqli_set_charset("utf8"); $query = "SELECT * FROM `josy` WHERE Login = '".addslashes($logindata)."'"; Q: PHP: Get Value of HTML DIV Dictating A Character Lets say i have a multiple value dictionary of some kind.  Competitions! Tabletop Creator Competitions! Alright guys… back from the con, what a blast! I had a great time and if you want to read about it do go ahead and read my post on the jenswinters.com forums! We had a great time making Kara and did a lot of fun stuff we're excited to share and talk about. At the same time the whole Fiddlesticks' Caravan thing sort of caught on and and it was cool to see all the stuff we got. In addition to my post on the jenswinters forums we got some nice prizes like the following: 1st Place- Grim's Doing It Wrong (2nd Place- A Balthazar Bursar (3rd Place- Digital Dinner Services (Two of you guys made solid products and it all happened outside of a con and I just wanted to say thank you for that. As for the rest of you cool people I need to keep this short on the con follow up and not do my post justice so here's some highlights for you! Money Man and Money Girl! I got a lot of phone calls after the con (forgot to mention the guy was even there one took place after he left), and just to set the record straight… we had an awesome con! I got to spend some quality time with Kenny (forever alone Gamer Chick) and Sean (AKA Kenny's CPU) and you should totally come to APACON in Anaheim in a couple months. We have Kara, the purpose is to discuss RPG gaming but that's the cover story because its really for superhero vs supervillian game development in which we do that RPG thing that is cool. Its actually kinda sorta the whole premise of the show but in the vein of the likes of OSR, Gygax, Grundy, Larry, Conventions…etc. Its cool and we really don't want it to be about super heroes at all so I'm playing up this whole RPG
