Be an Elden Lord and progress in the Lands Between, traverse huge dungeons to reach your destination, and do battle with fearsome monsters in the story mode, which lets you experience the Elden Ring story in a different way. There are currently three titles available in the story mode. As you progress in the story mode, the title "Elden Lord" will be unlocked, which will allow you to access Tarnished Mode, as well as weapons, armor, and magic that are not available in the story mode. In Tarnished Mode, the play environment is the same as in the story mode, but the events will take place in a different time period in the story mode and will appear differently. Additionally, Tarnished Mode also contains an exclusive story which will unlock as you complete the story mode. Official Game website (English) (Japanese)Expected redox patterns of the Fe(III) and Fe(II) species in the salt extract of Fe/Cu/As(III) minerals: thermochemical models and valence-state-resolved photoelectron spectroscopy. A detailed picture of the molecular and bulk electronic structures of mineral species is one of the biggest challenges in the field of geochemistry. An in-depth understanding of the redox chemistry is essential for the evaluation of the geothermal relevance of mineral species and their potential contribution to the disequilibria of the Earth's subsurface. In this work, we present the first experimental and theoretical study of the expected low-energy photoelectron spectra of the Fe(III) and Fe(II) species of the metal/arsenide/arsenic redox couple extracted from ferric pyrolusite (Fe/Cu/As(III)) and ferric and ferrous jarosite (Fe/Cu/As(III)) minerals. We show that the valence-state-resolved photoelectron spectra of the salt extract minerals provide fingerprints of the stability of the mineral species in the salt extract in the region of energy loss values lying close to the exit energy of the valence electrons of the Fe species. This conclusion is reached based on the absence of Fe(II) signals at the Fe 2p(3/2) edge, as well as the lineshape of the Fe(II) and Fe(III) signals at the Fe 2p(3/2) edge of the salt extract minerals. We then estimate the free energy of each species in the
