Q: Laravel Eloquent ORM - Remove an array from an array I'm doing an assessment for a job, and I've been handed a pretty awful mess. I think I need to use Eloquent for part of this job, but it's a lot more difficult to do than most of the tutorials I've come across! What I've got is a bunch of authors, which in turn have chapters (in their DB). Each book has a few chapters, and each chapter has a few tags. So I have authors: $authors = Author::all(); which will return an array of authors and has a book_id field in it's primary table (like here). Now, what I'm trying to do is take that list of authors, go through all of the authors' chapters and count the number of times each tag appears in the chapter. So I get something like $authors = Author::all(); array (0 => array (0 => 'John Smith', 'title' => 'Alpha Beta', 'book_id' => 12), 1 => array (0 => 'Jane Doe', 'title' => 'Gamma Delta', 'book_id' => 6), ... etc...) Now, for each of the authors, I would like to count up how many of their chapters have the tag 'Alpha' and 'Beta'. So if I do this, I would get something like: $authors = Author::all(); array (0 => array (0 => 'John Smith', 'title' => 'Alpha Beta

Photoshop is a great tool that is often used in the social media marketing realm. A huge number of users choose it over other apps for its ease of use, power, and flexibility. However, Photoshop's flexibility can sometimes cause confusion and uncertainty for beginners. The most common reason that beginners get stuck is in the naming and naming of different tools and features. Here are some of the tools that can be used in Photoshop: Brush tool: Brush tool is a basic tool that is used to paint images. It comes in two types: 1.A. Multiply: When you use this brush, your brush strokes blend into each other producing an effect similar to painting with oils. B. Normal: Works the same way as above but produces a less blended effect. To use: -Hold your mouse cursor over the image -Lasso tool will appear -Click the canvas to select what you want to paint -Press and hold the mouse button, then click-and-drag to paint. Rough, a textured stroke, is similar to the same as using the Pen tool in that it is a textured stroke where you can paint in as many different directions as you need. Merge Down Merge Down is a tool that is especially useful in creating illustrations and comics. Merge Down merges several layers of an image and is useful for creative purposes. Type tool: Type tool is a tool used for letters and different fonts. It is especially useful when you need to add a graphic element to your text. Eraser tool: Eraser tool is used for removing the unwanted parts from images. Free Transform tool: Free transform tool is used to modify the location, size, or rotation of objects in images. Crop tool: Crop tool allows you to resize objects and draw or delete specific areas. Adjustment: Adjustment is a feature that lets you change colors, lights, and shadows in an image. Effect: Effect is a feature used for creating special effects in images. Saturation, Hue, and Lightness: Hue is a feature used to adjust the color of images. Saturation adjusts the intensity of colors and Lightness is used to adjust the lightness of colors. Glossy, Bump
