Farkle is a very simple dice game that just takes up a lot of time. Over 2 billion people enjoy dice games including poker, war, and skill games like table tennis and bowling. In Farkle, you and your opponent start with 2 dice and roll. The first person who rolls a score of 10,000 wins. If you roll a set of 10's or 3 of a kind (two-of-a-kind or one-of-a-kind) then the other player gets to play a penalty turn to try and get more points. Once you win you will keep your score. However, if you lose and have already gained 10,000 points then the person who lost will lose all their score. After the penalty turn, if you are the winner then you are allowed to roll another turn. If you roll a score of 10,000, you are the winner. Online, you will find farkle boards in farkle chat rooms, farkle mailing lists, and in many games on the internet. Game Types: 2 player: To add some strategy to the game, you can play against one of your friends. Each player rolls their own dice, one at a time, and the first person to roll a 10,000 score gets to roll another turn. Whoever rolls first is usually the winner. 3 player: As in the 2 player game, players can play against each other. It's always fun to play against 3 players. 6 player: This game is very fun to play with friends. Each player rolls a die at the same time. Whoever has the highest score at the end is the winner. If the highest score is tied, then the person who rolled their 2nd highest score has to play a penalty turn. 16 player: After each player has rolled their die, all players roll again until a score of 10,000 is rolled. Then the next player gets to roll again until someone rolls the score. 30 player: You play against 4 other players in a round robin format. Once all the players have rolled a die, each player plays a penalty turn as a minimum of 2 and a maximum of 6 turns. The player who rolls first is the winner. Scoring: Everyone gets one penalty turn. This means that the other player has to choose whether they will play on or turn over. Roll 1: 1 point for rolling a 10 of a kind (

Its main goal is to accept a bunch of JSON APIs and place them into a dataset with some other vars added to it. This is where I ran into my issue. When I have a route like this example here: `router.get("/api/houses", _someFunction);` Which I intend to access the function passed as parameter with data from a house that the user has access to (so the `res.locals.houses.id` is defined): `router.get("/api/houses/:houseid", functions.get($rootScope.houses, houses));` The routes aren't showing up and the correct route showing up is this: `router.get("/api/houses", _someFunction);` Although I understand that if I want to pass locals, I could do: `router.get("/api/houses/:houseid", house`
