buster Survival Course!A one-on-one training session with the best Charles Barkley expert in the business! From dining to decorating, and everything in between, Charles Barkley's Life Course provides you with the tips and techniques you need to create a space that you'll love and enjoy. This high definition video course with the basketball star himself is the one resource that you need that will put you on the fast track to creating the home of your dreams. When you're done reading and using this article, your home will be transformed, and even if you're a lifelong resident, you will love your space! Check out this ridiculously informative video on Charles Barkley, and gather up what you can from here. The whole gist is in here, but what is he going on about? Are these articles or are these some rich kids' complaints about bumf*ckers not cleaned up after? As for the idea of making a "safe room" for guns. Guns are supposed to be useful, no doubt, but it is not necessary for us to do anything. Whoever uses them is capable of organizing a very practical "safe room". My personal feeling is that the group or individual doing this must be of reasonable ability, preferably higher than this person. Oh, if you can't even stand up, then you should not be typing. I would love it if someone did this for me. Building it on my property is out of the question, but I live near the Mall of America in Minneapolis. I don't necessarily need the ARC, but it would be nice. I don't take a bus to work any more, so how likely am I to become a violent psychopath? If this is in the Clifffort area, then even better. The whole venacular that surrounds Clifffort is somewhat "homosexual", which, I think it is probably best to keep this same environment if you wish to live in such a 'haven'. Not a bad idea but the risk of violence of course is much better in a more serene environment away from the big population points. The big question is why is there a need to have a "safe room" at all; the design and placement could certainly make clear rooms as required by law. I'd certainly enjoy the surroundings & if I lived nearby; even better. The dumb question is why does one need a safe room; I've never been to Clifffort yet. EDIT

Tower of Guns (The Game) is a fast paced, retro inspired, no-nonsense FPS with a twist. A short burst of fun, designed to suit the limited amount of time that the average gamer is willing to spend playing a game. Tower of Guns sets itself apart from the competition by the refreshing rush of speed, challenging gameplay, and never ending replayability. STORY AND BACKGROUND Tower of Guns is a gun-building, rocket-launching-shooting, short-burst shoot 'em up that randomly loads a bunch of different boss-enemies into a randomly generated level. You play as a one-man-band named "Jack". Jack goes into a room at the top of a tower. He doesn't know what's in this room or even why he's there. He has no weapons. The walls start dripping weirdly when Jack meets a two-headed creature. There's a lot of dialogue, and you learn more about the world and yourself when Jack opens up a bunch of boxes. STYLE Tower of Guns is a fast-paced, shoot 'em up with a funky retro feel. There's a lot of slow-paced action and tense moments, but there are also a lot of high-flying action, goofy humor, and silly moments. It's all about high-octane combat set in a crazy world with arcade graphics. GAMEPLAY The gameplay of Tower of Guns is fast paced, and was designed for the Limited amount of time that the average gamer will have in front of a computer to play a game. Tower of Guns was created with an artistic vision in mind. Much like the video game industry in the 90's, the majority of the art and design on Tower of Guns was done by one person.
